CONNECT 5 Rewards

Prelaunch Affiliate Income Disclosure Statement

Effective date: November 23, 2026

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT POTENTIAL AFFILIATE EARNINGS

TNT CONNECTS, LLC ("TNT CONNECTS") is introducing CONNECT 5 Rewards, an optional affiliate program. As of the effective date of this disclosure, the program is new and TNT CONNECTS does not have sufficient verified historical affiliate earnings and expense information to calculate or publish representative average or typical net affiliate earnings. This statement is not an income disclosure based on actual participant results.

1. No Earnings Guarantee

Participation in CONNECT 5 Rewards does not guarantee commissions, bonuses, profits, or any particular financial result. An affiliate may earn no commissions, and may incur expenses that exceed commissions received. Earnings, if any, depend on qualifying customer activity, applicable plan rules, and other factors; results vary.

2. No Historical Earnings Statistics Yet

Because reliable program-wide earnings and expense history is not yet available, TNT CONNECTS cannot state what a typical affiliate earns, what percentage of affiliates earns commissions, or what affiliates typically retain after expenses. No earnings figures, success rates, or net-profit estimates should be inferred from the Compensation Plan, rank names, matrix dimensions, or promotional materials.

3. How Commissions May Be Earned

The separate CONNECT 5 Rewards Compensation Plan describes eligibility for personal customer commissions, matrix commissions, and rank bonuses. The existence of these features does not mean an affiliate will qualify for or receive them. Commissions are subject to active-customer, payment, qualification, refund, reversal, chargeback, and other applicable rules in the Affiliate Agreement, Compensation Plan, and Policies & Procedures. The Compensation Plan governs calculation and eligibility; this disclosure does not modify it.

4. Participation Costs and Other Expenses

The CONNECT 5 Rewards Affiliate Business Center has a $79 annual fee. Under the current program rules, an affiliate who does not meet the initial 60-day qualification requirement may have an optional $19.95 extension opportunity, if eligible. Other possible expenses include advertising, internet and mobile service, travel, training, supplies, taxes, and other business costs. Such expenses may reduce or eliminate any net earnings. No affiliate should spend money based on an expectation of future commissions.

5. Customer Payments, Trials, and Refunds

CONNECT customer subscriptions may begin with a seven-day free trial. No customer commissionable volume (CV) is generated during an unpaid trial. A qualifying successful customer payment may create eligible CV under the Compensation Plan, subject to subsequent refunds, chargebacks, and other adjustments. The CONNECT service's 14-day first-payment money-back guarantee may therefore affect commission eligibility and amounts. An affiliate should not treat provisional commissions as guaranteed income.

6. No Income Claims Without Reliable Support

Until TNT CONNECTS has reliable, representative earnings and expense data and has approved compliant disclosure materials, affiliates must not make claims about typical, expected, likely, or attainable earnings; display hypothetical full-matrix income projections as real-world outcomes; promise financial freedom; or imply that commissions will cover living expenses or replace employment income. Affiliates must not use unsubstantiated testimonials or selective success stories to imply typical results. Any future earnings representations must be truthful, substantiated, and accompanied by appropriate context about expenses and typical results where required.

7. Independent Decision

Prospective affiliates should evaluate the program based on its actual products, contractual terms, fees, personal circumstances, and the possibility of earning nothing. Joining the affiliate program is optional and is separate from purchasing CONNECT customer services. No purchase of a CONNECT subscription should be presented as a guarantee of affiliate earnings.

8. Updates to This Disclosure

TNT CONNECTS intends to review available participant earnings and expense information as the program develops and revise this disclosure when sufficient reliable data exists. Any later disclosure should clearly identify the measurement period, participant population, treatment of affiliates with zero earnings, and known or reasonably estimated expenses. A future update does not change the absence of historical results as of this document's effective date.
